Who are Looked After Children?

Under the Children Act 1989, a child is 'looked after' by a local authority if he or she is in their care or provided with accommodation for more than 24 hours by the authority. They may fall into one of four main groups. Children may be accommodated under a voluntary agreement with their parents (section 20). They may be the subjects of a care order (section 31) or interim care order (section 38). Children can be the subjects of emergency orders for their protection (sections 44 and 46). They may also be compulsorily accommodated – this includes children remanded to the local authority or subject to a criminal justice supervision order with a residence requirement (section 21).

The term 'in care' refers only to children who are subject to a care order by the courts under section 31 of the Children Act 1989 - they may live with foster carers, in a Children's home, in a residential school, with relatives or with parents under supervision. Children who are cared for on a voluntary basis are 'accommodated' by the local authority under section 20 of the Children Act – they may live in foster care, in a Children's home or in a residential school. All these groups are said to be 'Looked After Children' - LAC. They may be looked after by our local authority or may be in the care of another authority but living in ours.

All Looked After Children will have a Personal Education Plan (PEP) drawn up between the school, the child, and the child's social worker, which will identify the child's individual needs and the support they require.

In cases where children are in care to the local authority, and parents still retain some rights and responsibilities regarding their child's care, they may still be entitled to be consulted on their education where this is in the child's interest. There is the possibility that the child will return to their care so they will need to be able to continue supporting their education. In this case, as far as is practicable, appropriate and consistent with the child's welfare, the school, social workers and foster carers will include parents in the PEP process and/or keep them informed of the child's progress. How parents can contribute to their child's education whilst they are looked after will be explored and agreed when the child first becomes looked after and reviewed on an ongoing basis on the advice of the key professionals involved.
