

PSED Planning – Week Beginning: 6th July 2020

	Maths	PSED	Phonics
Monday	The story of Osman Odd and Eshal Even	Choose a book that shows lots of different feelings. Look through the book and discuss the different feelings you see. Circle time - use a teddy and begin with phrase "I sometimes feel cross when..." "I'm excited when..." Explore a range of different feelings. Encourage children to share their ideas and solutions for how to deal with these different emotions if they are ones that can be upsetting such as anger or sadness.	Pick an activity from SeeSaw. Practise a sound you need to or tricky words or practise using your sounds in a sentence! All these resources will be uploaded to the website too.
Tuesda	Odds and evens socks	Selection of stories that have feelings as a focus (Elmer, Can't you sleep little bear? Or Rainbow fish). Discuss the characters' feelings -what could they do to help themselves? - who could they turn to for help?
Wednesday	Talk about odd and even numbers ppt	Feel good ideas bag - Working in a small group, help children to make a 'Feel Good' bag. Each child draws or writes an activity that makes them feel happy then puts it in a suitable bag. Explain that then, if a child in the class is feeling sad, lonely or unhappy they could pull out an idea (along with a friend/buddy/or adult) and see if the action/activity can cheer them up. When the children have created their ideas, put them in the bag and test out some of them before using as a whole class.
Thursda	Odd and even numbers ladybird colouring worksheet	Feelings games - Put a stack of playing card-sized pieces of card on the writing table with a picture of some simple feelings emojis on the table. Children can copy the emojis and write the feelings underneath their drawing. These can then be paired up and put into sets for playing games such as Pairs or Snap.
Friday	Maths mastery home learning challenge odds and evens
