

A message from Mrs Jones

Another great week at school today and this week.

Our MacMillan Coffee Morning went down a storm it was so lovely to see so many parents and carers this morning.

As always I was overwhelmed by the generosity of our families. Thank you for your donations of cakes and money.

The Story of Oxenhope's Evacuees

This week we were thrilled to welcome the Deputy Lord Lieutenant to launch a beautiful book which has been written by two local authors Mike Hopinson and Norma Mackrell. The book tells the story of the Evacuee children who joined the community during WW2. We are selling the book (as are many other places in the village) and all money raised will go straight to Manorlands. If you are interested please contact the school office. The books are £15 or £25.

Diversity Week

Next week is diversity week in school.

The children will spend a proportion of their time learning about different culture, families, abilities and people.

We encourage children to ask questions and develop tolerance of others through fun and engaging activities.

Each year group will have a story to help launch their project.

Your child's class teacher will send out a brief overview of what they are covering in diversity week on Seesaw or Dojo next week.

A Parent's Survival Guide

We are in the process of designing a parent's survival guide which will be available next week.

This will give you lots of information about the running of the school, the people who work here and relevant policies you may want to be familiar with. This will help you understand our school and can be a go to when you have questions

Cycle to School Week

Next week we are encouraging children to cycle or scooter to school. We will be discussing the health benefits to cycling with the children and talking about riding safety too.

Your child can leave their bike, chained up, in the bike shed in the carpark. Please do not encourage children to ride into the actual playground as this can cause injuries.
